CHARITY LIST

Being Secured by Waldo Farmers Interested in the Grange.

An important meeting of the promoters of the Waldo Grange Association was held in the Waldo town hall Friday night. Miss Mary W. Lee, state organizer, was present and conducted the proceedings. The preliminary work of organization was taken up and a charter list of members was opened up. It was decided not to effect permanent organization until the charter list is sufficiently large to warrant a successful grange. A committee was appointed to solicit charter members and report the results of the work at a special meeting to be held next Thursday night. The attendance at this meeting was large and the prospects for a successful organization are very promising.

IN A BOX IN A SNOW BANK.

The Feet and Portions of the Legs of a Man or Woman are Found in New York City.

New York, Feb. 23.—The feet and portions of the legs of a man or woman were found in a box in a snow bank in the back yard of a tenement house in Third avenue Friday. The legs had been chopped off apparently with an ax. From the appearance of the feet and legs it is believed that an attempt was made to destroy them by fire before they were placed in the box and thrown where they were found. The limbs were taken to a police station and an investigation was begun. Police Sergeant McGuire, to whom the find was reported, said he is convinced the limbs were cut from the body of a man—probably an Italian.

"I suspect the man may have been murdered and his body cut up in one of the tenements in the neighborhood. It is possible the person who was carrying the feet to the East river bore some connection with the crime. There are no marks either upon the box or the paper in which the feet were wrapped that would lead to an identification.

Detectives sifted the snow where the box was found and discovered the photograph of a young woman, on the back of which was written the name "Faber." Mary Vassquez, the landlady of the building behind which the bones were found, stated that she was sure the box was not there Thursday. She did not recognize the photograph or the name, but said that for several days letters addressed "Faber" had come to the house, which she had refused to receive because there was no one by that name in the building.

NEW BYRON POEM IS FOUND.

Hitherto Unpublished Verse Found in Poet's Handwriting.

Middletown, N. Y.—Charles G. Dill of this city, who has one of the largest libraries in the state, and who takes special pride in the work of Lord Byron, has an old volume of the poet's own hand on one of the front leaves an unpublished poem. The authenticity of the poem is attested by an English clergyman, a distant relative of Lord Byron's family. It reads:

Buds, blossoms, breezes, butterflies and bees
(Alliteration now is all the go).
And sunny lakes and vales and moonlit seas,
And streams that to their own sweet music flow,
"Here's goodly stuff toward"—and if to be
You add a maiden with a breast of snow
And eye of blue, you are a clumsy fellow
If you can't rhyme as well as Miss Costello.

Or I, B. L., for every fool can rhyme,
Of love and broken hearts—that never were broken,
Since surgeons cannot find a rent—'tis time
To doubt a fact of which there is no token.
But this would play the devil with the rhyme
Of modern verse and I have treason spoken,
For hearts must break—of ladies who are single,
But could be double (how my couplets jingle).

The single ladies wishing to be double,
The married ones to save the virgin trouble.
The date at which the poem was written is not known, but it is believed to have been years before the poet's death in 1824.

"Whisky Boat" No More.

The famous "whisky boat" is out of business. It plied on the river between Tunica and Coahoma counties and did a flourishing business with the levee negroes. For years it was a subject of contention between Mississippi and Arkansas, and the enactment of a law by the latter state prohibiting issue of liquor license in towns of less than 500 is responsible for its demise. The boat was licensed at Westover, Ark., and this town came under this law. The history of the "whisky boat" is filled with gruesome accounts of killings and outrages, and all river men will recall memories of its halcyon days.—Mobile Register.

LIVELY BOXING BOUT

Followed a Fast Wrestling Match Last Evening.

SHUFELT, THE WINNER

Lape Proves Too Much for Queen City Lad.

First Three Rounds were Slow but the Last Three were Livened up a Little.

Under local management, the wrestling game was revived, and the boxing game inaugurated before a large crowd at the Opera House last night. The affair was a big success from every standpoint. The watchword of the affair was "Clean Athletics."

The wrestling match was the first on the program and Shufelt, of Toledo, won from Krafts, of Detroit, by securing the first and third falls. The men went on the mat weighing 135 pounds. They went at it hammer and tongs, roughing it all of the while and each taking advantage of every opportunity offered. Using a half Nelson and shoulder hold Shufelt downed his man in ten minutes. The second fall went to Krafts in 14 minutes after one of the fastest round ever witnessed on the local stage. The winner used a half hammerlock and Parker roll. Shufelt got the last fall in seven minutes, catching his opponent unaware with scissors and half Nelson.

The little men were by far faster than the heavier ones who have been seen in the past on the local stage and the final outcome was at all times in doubt. It was a good clean match and was thoroughly appreciated by the spectators.

The boxing match was the bright particular feature of the evening. Lape, of Columbus and Eddie Harris, of Cincinnati, were the contestants and both put up a clever exhibition. Before the boxing was commenced, Lape and Harris demonstrated a large number of the most effective blows known in the ring.

The men boxed six two minutes rounds. The first three rounds were rather tame, Lape easily putting it all over Harris. The last three rounds were livelier and in the last round especially there was plenty doing. Lape swung a hard left to the jaw and right to the stomach and Harris went face downward on the floor. The blow into his stomach had knocked the wind out of him. He was picked up immediately and continued the round in good fashion. Of the two men, Lape is by far the better and had the bout been other than an exhibition he could have put him out in a couple of rounds.

Good Substitute for Liquor.

"Is your husband keeping his promise to abstain from drinking?" asked Mrs. Wise.
"Oh, yes, faithfully," answered Mrs. Newell.
"Are you sure? It's pretty hard for a man to resist the temptation."
"Yes, but he tells me he's found a substitute which he eats whenever he feels tempted to take a drink; and what do you suspect it is?"
"Cloves!"

Uncle Eben.

"Mebbe one reason," said Uncle Eben, "dat us folks had so much difficulty is dat we incline to do game of craps an' blackberry an' gin stid o' bridge whist an' champagne."

Ohio State Representative

Hon. JOHN P. BOWER, Attorney at Law, Rushsylvania, O.
Ex-Representative of Logan County, the friend of good government, whose public spirit prompts him to take part in questions of general interest. "Five years ago was cured of catarrh by The Common Sense Catarrh Cure. No symptoms of his former trouble." Read his letter: RUSHSVILLE, O., Nov. 1.

Dear Sir: "I was a great sufferer with catarrh troubles for a number of years, the burden falling in my throat and nose, which affected my voice that public speaking became painful. Had tried many so-called catarrh cures without relief. About five years ago I used a number of bottles of The Common Sense Catarrh Cure with the result that I have since had no symptoms of my former trouble, nor do I take cold at all, while before I took cold at the slightest exposure. I therefore recommend your remedy."

Sincerely yours,
JOHN P. BOWER.

LIBERTY ASSAILED

Arch-Bishop Ireland Condemns Jumping at Conclusions and Passing Laws.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—Encroachment of lawmakers on civil liberty by the passing of too many laws and the enactment of hasty legislation against corporations was condemned yesterday by Archbishop John Ireland in a Washington's birthday speech before the Sons of the American Revolution. He said:

"In the intentions of the fathers of the republic political liberty was to be the guardian and protector of civil liberty. It was thought that citizens being the lawmakers, no laws would be enacted that would go beyond what was necessary in demanding restrictions of civil freedom."

"And yet, is there not some peril to civil liberty from political liberty, at least from what I may be allowed to call the exuberance, the riotousness of political liberty? As a matter of fact we have too many laws; our legislatures are too anxious to increase bulk of statute book. As things are tending, we shall soon have so many laws that, wrapped around, as it were, by hurried mail, we shall become prisoners, forbidden to stir or to walk."

The archbishop then pointed out that many laws were passed to satisfy the vanity, fancy or political ends of the legislators, many more as a result of a mania for moral reforms, and still others to satisfy a wild desire to curb successful business enterprises and legitimate wealth to unsuccessful men. In most of these cases the laws were an incubus on civil liberty because they were not inspired by a deep sense of patriotic justice to all classes.

"That accumulation of capital, corporations, trusts, may have had their faults, and may have been watched over by the state with diligence and care, I shall not deny," said the archbishop. "But this much I do deny: That accumulations of capital and corporations are to be prejudged as guilty, that men having part in them are to be deemed almost as without right to work, without right to fair play, which is the native heritage of all Americans."

Results of Exposure.
"They may also have rheumatism of the nerves," remarked the friend. "What is that now, rheumatism of the nerves? I never heard of it."
"I suppose," explained the other, "that she had so much nerve she caught cold in it."

THE WAY TO MAKE MONEY IS TO SAVE MONEY

In the purchase of any article. Particularly is this true in regard to the purchase of PIANOS. A good piano is valuable both on account of what it represents and what it really is, and musicians and critics who know the relative merits of pianos concede the claim that the CHICKERING BROS. PIANO is superior to many so-called high-grade instruments. The people who buy good pianos are not those who go from store to store and ask "How much is this piano?" and "How much is that piano?" but are the ones who have only one thought in mind—"How good a piano can I get for the least money?" These are the ones who visit our store and BUY. They are the people who know and appreciate Pure Tone, Responsive Action, Superb Design, and who marvel that such a piano can be sold for so little money. We also have other high-grade pianos, such as the Raymond, the Haines Brothers, as well as a fine line of medium pianos, such as MARSHAL & WENDELL. An investigation of these statements is solicited, and we feel sure that if you investigate you will be convinced that we have the best line of Pianos at the Lowest Prices found in this section of the state.
